

Product Range

Manufactured in Australia to suit Australian conditions, the Interpon D architectural product range is backed by the world's leading supplier of powder coatings, our parent company AkzoNobel, and this means an unparalleled bank of knowledge and experience supports our powder coating products.

Not sure what product to use for your project? Find out quickly using the Product Selector Tool and be guaranteed to select the right finish, first time.

The Interpon D range includes:

Commercial Grade:

- Interpon D3000 Fluoromax®
Recommended for all external applications requiring premium durability including exceptional color fade resistance
- Interpon D2015 Ultriva™
Recommended for internal and external applications offering ultra durability and color fade resistance

Residential Grade:

- Interpon D1000
Designed exclusively for residential projects equivalent to class 1 or 10 of the BCA 2010, Interpon D1000 is the leading residential grade product in Australia.

We have an Interpon D product for whatever your project requirement, guaranteed to deliver exceptional performance in terms of durability, color stability and resistance to corrosion.

Specialty Products

A range of specialty powder coatings for a greener, cheaper or safer alternative

Product Selector

Not sure what product to use for your project? Find out quickly.